

Bat Girls

Every single player of the Class A- Monticello Monocles attributed his success (a relative term, you understand) to the team's batting coaches, Irma and Emma Dinklaker. The two sisters had been swinging a bat for longer than there had even been bats. And they famously invented the storied baseball mantra "Keep your eye on the ball or anyone else you don't trust."