

Bring It On!

Betty had long dreamt of being a traffic cop. Regrettably, her dream was short on the particulars of the job. So when a related reverie plunked her down on the Champs-Élysées a few blocks from the Arc de Triomphe in the midst of heavy traffic, she instinctively threw up her arms in panic. Fortunately, the gesture clearly meant Arrêt! to the French. Unfortunately, the bulk of motorists cruising down the Champs-Élysées at that moment were from Kuala Lumpur, where the gesticulation brazenly said “bring it on!”
