

Double-Action

Dinklaker brand Double-Action Pepper Spray calls itself the world's most effective self-defense device. That may be, however contrary to its claims, it does not "fit conveniently in a pants pocket or purse," plus the apparatus is only AC-powered – and who has time to hunt for an electrical outlet when an undesirable something is threatening to invade your personal space?! Hmm? Well, sure, Countess Meptang does, but that's another story.
