

The Hair Salon and Body Spa

The Dinklaker Hair Salon and Body Spa in Braintown was loved by some while others feared it. Its Hair Care Department got top marks for Melissa, Magola, and Mahala, its talented cutting and styling artisans. And the shoppe's clientele repeatedly gave an enthusiastic thumbs-up to Marva and Mira of the Aromatherapy, Facial Treatment, and Body Massage Division. Where the facility failed to sustain these high standards was in the manicure arena. It's not difficult to understand why, given the relative inexperience and – let's be honest – inattention to detail of the manicurists, Manfred and Manuel, who learned their craft not in beauty school but rather in the deep dark woods tutored by a well-meaning but nonetheless cosmetically indifferent lumberjack named Meptang.
