

Isabelle Unconvinced

Isabelle was grateful to be playing the starring role of Violetta Valéry in Arnold Dinklaker's production of La Traviata by G.F. Verdi. She simply wasn't convinced that Arnold's vision of moving the venue from an early 18th century Paris salon to the Florida Everglades was the right one, especially with the all too aggressive "props" that Dinklaker had personally donated from his private stock.
