

Jack and Jill IV

Intending to fetch a pail of water, Jack and Jill went up the hill, where they were greeted by a stagnant pool from which iridescent plumes of noxious vapors arose. Jack dared Jill to drink the water. When Jill refused, Jack called her a sissy, scooped up a handful, and drank the tangy liquid. Later, back at the playground at the bottom of the hill, a contrite Jack had reason to rue his rash act.