

Live and Learn

Over the years, Rapunzel (no, not that one) Dinklaker had tried dozens of different hair straightening products to tame her unruly curly locks. Aveda, L'Oréal, Ogilvie, Paul Mitchell, Folica, Colonel Sanders – she'd put all of their wares to the test. But, alas, to no avail. So when she discovered that the Henri Pringler Hair Straightening System (HPH2S) really worked, she became a lifelong convert. Alas, her hair follicles were uprooted by the dozens each session until there was finally nothing left for the HPH2S to grab on to. Live and learn!
