

Rule 15: Do Not Yodel.

As his extravehicular mobility unit (a.k.a. space suit) swiftly lost pressure, compromising its hermetical seal, astronaut Clive Dinklaker remembered again why it was so hazardous to yodel while suited up. But this was the fourth time this week, for crying out loud (also a bad idea)! Would he never learn?!