

The Rule Breakers

Pringler Amusement Park Rule No. 18 is “A child must be at least 4 feet 9 inches tall to ride the Screamin’ Demon Roller Coaster.” But rules are meant to be broken, especially by clever youngsters like Betty and Little Ned. On the other hand, rules are often made for a good reason, which Betty and Little Ned sadly learned when they were flung higgledy-piggledy out of the car as it sped around Dead Man’s Curve simply because their legs were too short to reach the safety stirrups.
