

On the Road

Saint Bernard of Clairvaux once wrote “L’enfer est plein de bonnes volontés et désirs,” or, the road to hell is paved with good intentions. What he neglected to add was that there was a very good restaurant, Chez Dinklaker, on the road that made the trip quite tolerable. (A minor quibble: the road was really carpeted, not paved.)